UCSF Women's Health Webinar Series

COVID-19 and your Pregnancy Care at UCSF:
What to expect in the coming weeks

Friday, April 10th | 12noon-1:30pm PST

For the first session of our inaugural UCSF Women's Health Webinar series, our team of Obstetrics and Perinatal experts will discuss prenatal care and delivery at UCSF during the COVID-19 pandemic.

Our panelists will cover topics such as in-person and virtual prenatal visits, current visitor policies, outpatient cervical ripening, labor and delivery, and postpartum care, in addition to answering some of your questions during a dedicated Q&A portion.

Register at https://whrcportal.ucsf.edu/whrcmember/
Registrants will receive a webinar link and password prior to the event.

Moderated by: Dr. Nazaneen Homaifar, Ob/Gyn

Panelists include:
Dr. Tushani Illangasekare, Ob/Gyn, Assistant Director of Labor & Delivery
Dr. Roxanna Irani, Ob/Gyn, Medical Director of Outpatient Obstetrics
Dr. Robyn Lamar, Ob/Gyn
Dr. Tom Shimotake, Medical Director of the UCSF Benioff Children's Intensive Care Nursery
Sasha Yamnik, Certified Nurse Midwife
Bertina Lee, Manager of the UCSF Women's Health Resource Center

Questions? Contact the Women's Health Resource Center email: whrc2@ucsf.edu

UCSF Health
Women's Health